REPORT ON DEBATE CONDUCTED FOR 2ND YEAR STUDENTS

An engaging and intellectually stimulating debate was organised for 2nd year LLB students on the proposition of whether the age of consent under the protection of from sexual offences (POCSO) Act should be reduced to 16 years. The session witnessed well-researched arguments from both sides, highlighting legal, social, and ethical dimensions of the issue. Participants examined the balance between safeguarding minors and recognising evolving societal realities, while also reflecting on the implications for justice, autonomy, and protection. The debate fostered critical thinking, respectful discourse, and a deeper appreciation of the complexities involved in shaping child protection laws in contemporary society. The event was guided by the faculty members, who moderated the discussions and motivated students to express their views in a professional and disciplined manner.
